

George Washington

George Washington was the first President of the United States. He grew up in a Virginia planter family. As he grew older he joined the military and eventually lead the American troops as a general in the American Revolution. After the revolution was won he was unanimously elected Presentent. After 2 terms as President Washthing retired to Mount Vernon. He died in 1799.